REFLECT
RECONCILIATION
ACTION PLAN
MAY 2018 – MAY 2019
FOREWORD
BY THE MANAGING DIRECTOR

I am extremely proud of the fact that Saab Australia is commencing its reconciliation journey; this reconciliation action plan (RAP) will help us to gain a better understanding of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures.

It will act as a framework to develop a deeper engagement with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community and will help Saab Australia to define its vision for reconciliation so that subsequent RAPs are meaningful, enduring and truly supportive of the community.

By publishing this RAP we are stating our commitment towards the Australian Government’s Closing the Gap strategy by supporting Indigenous students to complete year 12 and providing employment opportunities for Indigenous Australians either through direct employment or engaging with suppliers who employ Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

Andy Keough
Managing Director, Saab Australia Pty Ltd
Saab has maintained a presence in Australia since 1984 with a focus on the defence and civil security sectors. Our capabilities have grown from providing local solutions and support to Royal Australian Navy submarines and ships, to providing equipment, services and support across the entire Australian Defence Force. Our business extends to services provided to other Federal and State Governments, privately owned organisations and exporting Australian developed capabilities throughout Asia Pacific and North America.

We employ over 400 personnel in our offices in South Australia, Victoria, the Australian Capital Territory, Western Australia and remotely in New South Wales and Queensland. Our personnel provide specialist engineering and project management services in a range of sectors including, defence, civil aviation, port services, civilian security and emergency services. We actively encourage engagement and participation of local industry in our programs. A voluntary survey of all staff conducted in September 2015 indicated that at that time, Saab had one staff member who identified as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander.

Saab maintains an active diversity and inclusion committee tasked with ensuring the organisation has an inclusive culture which makes best use of the available talent within the organisation and considers diversity during recruitment. The committee also leads the internal education and engagement processes that support diversity and inclusive behaviours to ensure we both meet our social responsibility and remain an employer of choice.
The reconciliation action plan (RAP) program is a framework for organisations to realise their vision for reconciliation. Through the program, organisations develop a business plan that documents what an organisation commits to do to contribute to reconciliation in Australia.

This RAP will enable Saab to commit to implementing and measuring practical actions that build respectful relationships and create opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples.

There are four different phases within a RAP program which reflect the stage an organisation is at and the current goals the organisation would be trying to achieve. This RAP is focused in the reflect phase which highlights that Saab is commencing its reconciliation journey. A description of each RAP phase follows.

REFLECT
A reflect RAP is for organisations just starting out on their reconciliation journey and who need to build the foundations for relationships, respect and opportunities. A reflect RAP will give your organisation the time and opportunity to raise awareness and support for your RAP inside your organisation. It will also assist you to develop a solid RAP governance model and build the business case for future commitments to cultural learning, and practising cultural protocols considering Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment.

STRETCH
A stretch RAP is for organisations ready to challenge themselves by setting targets for the actions outlined in their RAP. A stretch RAP will give your organisation the opportunity to focus on tried and tested strategies and programs and set clear and measurable targets to deepen its impact.

ELEVATE
An elevate RAP is for organisations with a long, successful history in the RAP program; a current stretch RAP and a willingness to significantly invest in reconciliation. Elevate RAP organisations are among an elite group of leaders driving reconciliation in their sector.

INNOVATE
An innovate RAP is for organisations that have developed relationships with their Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander stakeholders and are ready to develop or implement programs for cultural learning, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employment and supplier diversity. An innovate RAP will give your organisation the freedom to develop and test new and innovative approaches, and embed the RAP in your organisation.
OUR RECONCILIATION ACTION PLAN

The RAP outlines our commitment to sustainable engagement within our organisation and with the wider community. Our RAP is based on the following building blocks:

- Developing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander education and employment opportunities;
- Engaging our people with the local communities in which we operate; and
- Empowering Indigenous businesses through procurement and contracting opportunities.

These building blocks are designed to provide a foundation for the organisation to develop targeted actions that will build the foundations for relationships, respect and opportunities for those whom identify as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, both within the workplace and the wider community.

OUR PARTNERSHIPS/CURRENT ACTIVITIES

OUR RECONCILIATION JOURNEY

Our reconciliation journey began in 2015 with the establishment of a diversity committee. As part of the committee’s work, research was conducted that highlighted the barriers that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students face when exploring future careers within the science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) fields.

This initial research was subsequently expanded in scope to look at the role that Indigenous businesses could have supporting Saab by providing key enablers and capabilities to programs of national significance. The development of a RAP was identified as an initial step in Saab seeking to build the foundations for relationships, respect and opportunities with the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities in which we operate.

In April 2015 we ratified our diversity and inclusion committee charter, providing management direction and empowerment to employees to drive and frame our policies and actions around inclusion and diversity in the workforce. In 2016, the committee was directed by the managing director, as the company sponsor, to commence the reconciliation process reporting and responsible directly to senior management.

Our RAP seeks to solidify our commitment to our reconciliation journey and develop long-lasting, successful relationships with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander businesses and educational institutions to grow future employees and leaders for the company.

2021 STRETCH 2022 ELEVATE 2023
Through our reconciliation journey to date we have:

- Engaged with the South Australian Department of State Development and commencing a cultural education program with the Saab Australia management team.
- Participated in the Smith Family South Australian STEM Indigenous camp in October 2017 providing Aboriginal students in years 10, 11 and 12 with exposure to Saab’s work in STEM related fields.
- Our managing director chairs the South Australian Governor’s Aboriginal Employment Defence Industry Cluster.
- Engaged with Goompi Ugerabah of the Gureng Gureng tribe to create a series of art works that represents the story of Saab in Australia. This art is now on display in Adelaide, Canberra and Saab’s global headquarters in Sweden.
- Engaged with Reconciliation SA who provided review comments on a draft of this RAP.

The champion for implementing our reflect RAP will be Karen Hughes who will chair the reconciliation working group for this phase, with the endorsement and support of the managing director, Andy Keough.

THE PATH OUR JOURNEY WILL TAKE

Saab has offices in multiple states in the traditional lands of the Kaurna (Adelaide), Ngunnawal (Canberra), Woiworung (Melbourne) and the Nyungar (Rockingham) peoples. Saab is committed to ensuring our reconciliation journey engages with all of the traditional owners/custodians in the locations we operate, however we wish to ensure that these connections are honest and long-lasting. We recognise that real relationships take time.

Our path to reconciliation will be gradual and will grow from our initial engagement with the Kaurna people through the Ngunnawal and Woiworung peoples and conclude with the Nyungar people of Rockingham. This path will ensure a measured approach to our engagement ensuring a lasting connection between Saab and each of the first peoples of Australia. Our employees will be able to consider and learn from each engagement before starting the journey with the next group.
Developing long-lasting relationships with the first peoples of Australia and communities in which we work is important to Saab. Through these relationships we will educate our staff on the histories, cultures and traditions of our local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities. This will provide a foundation for our business to work together with Australia’s first peoples towards reconciliation.

We will work with our local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities to develop real education opportunities in the areas of science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM). We will explore Indigenous businesses and assess how Saab can work with these businesses to grow their capability and provide long term skilled roles in the community. We acknowledge that through real opportunities and inspiring Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples we can lay the foundation of a true path to positive reconciliation.

ARRIVING ON NEW LANDS

The Dala horse is an authentic symbol of Sweden, conceptualised in Dalahast, Sweden during the 17th Century. Saab commissioned Aboriginal artist Goompi Ugerabah to paint the story of Saab Australia on two Dala horses which were hand-crafted in Sweden especially for the project.

The original canvas painting, 'A land rich in ochres and water' is a visual representation of the collaboration and coming together of two cultures.

The four 'U' shapes at the centre represent the four Saab employees who crossed the oceans from Sweden, travelling to Australia in the late 1980s, arriving in tribal lands. These four pioneers were key to the growth of what is now Saab Australia. These four shapes grow in numbers outwards symbolising the hundreds of Australian employees. Five sectional areas of the piece depict the expansion across five Australian states.

Goompi transferred the original canvas painting story to the two Dala horses. The three pieces of art are now on display in the following Saab locations:

- Dala horse in Saab global headquarters, Stockholm
- Dala horse in Saab Australia headquarters, Adelaide
- Canvas in Saab Australia office, Canberra

About the artist

Goompi's name means possum from the place of the goanna.
